TORONTO TIDINGS

Mr. William Chute, an uncle of Mr. Samuel Pugsley, died with alarming suddenness in his sleep the other day, in his seventy-eighth year. His remains were taken to Aylmer, Ont., for interment.

Mr. Albert Little, of Niagara Falls, motored over and spent the week-end of April 27th with his mother and sister here, and part of the time at "Mora Glen." Knowing that Miss Helen A. Middleton had relatives and friends here, he offered her a ride over, which Miss Middleton thankfully accepted. Their many friends were glad to see them again.

One of those who attended every weekly meeting of Our Epworth League and fortnightly gatherings of the Bridgen Literary Society throughout the past season, almost without a break, was Mrs. George Wedderburn and she had to come a long way as well. As a mark of appreciation of her diligence and persistency, a goodly number of her fellow members gathered at her home on Howland Avenue, on the quiet, on April 27th, and gave her and her popular husband a jolly surprise party. At the same time a purse of gold was presented to her, as a slight token of our appreciation for her persistent pluck and courage. Messrs. H. W. Roberts and F. Terrell made short addresses loudly complimenting her and commended her deeds as worthy of emulation by others.

Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Bell, of Birch Cliffe, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Neil A. McGillivray, on April 28th, and in the evening several other friends called.

It was recently stated that Mr. Geo. W. Reeves had gone back to his old job at the MacLean's Publishing Co., where he formerly worked, but to verify this statement the JOURNAL reporter called on our genial George, and when told of the rumors, George smilingly replied: "It's all bosh," and "How could I" he chirped in, "when I am working overtime in my own shop." Since he opened an independent shop, Mr. Reeves has been besieged with more orders than he ever dreamed of and is now making the "greenbacks" fly.

We were all greatly pleased to meet Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Barnes at our church on April 28th. They were then the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Rostance. Mr. Rostance, it will be remembered, used to teach a class of the deaf in manual labor here several years ago. Mr. Barnes, though not deaf, can talk in our way very fluently, and is principal of one of the schools for the deaf in old England. He and Mrs. Barnes have been circling the globe, studying the best methods that are employed in the teaching of the deaf. At Cape Town, South Africa, they have two schools, one for the whites and one for the blacks. At Melbourne, Australia, he found there was the finest institution for the deaf in the world, respecting its methods of teaching. From Australia and India they journeyed across the Pacific to Vancouver, B. C., and then down over Canada, and will visit a few schools in the United States before they sail for their home in England.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rosnick have moved from the city to their summer cottage on the Etibicoke Flats, near Long Branch for the coming season.

The Toronto Jewish Society have changed their headquarters from 103 Grange Avenue to 1 Henry Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Belbeck, of Jarvis, the former's brother, Alvin, of Port Dover, and his sister, Mrs. Walter Hayhurst, of Brantford, were guests of Mrs. Belbeck's brother, and sister-in-law at "Mora Glen," on May 3d, having come out to attend the funeral of an aunt.

Mrs. A. C. Shepherd underwent a minor operation for the removal of her tonsils on April 30th, and now she is feeling much refreshed. The operation was performed at the Lockwood Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Grooms were favored with a visit from a few of the latter's relatives of Oshawa, and Mr. and Mrs. Grooms took them to the opening of the International Baseball season here on May 1st, in which the Baltimore Orioles defeated the Maple Leafs by 4 to 1.

Mrs. Eva Van Valin left on May 2d for Aurora, to keep house and attend to the sick bedside of Mrs. Eli Corbieri, who is quite ill at time of writing.

The Young People's Society of our church, has wound up its fortnightly sessions for the summer recess.

BRANTFORD CALLS

Mrs. J. A. Moynihan, of Waterloo, was a boarder at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sutton for a week lately, and in the meantime called on several of the deaf here. From here she proceeded to Hamilton, but her stay in that city was brief, owing to a troubled eye.

Mr. Frank Baumgart is still suffering from an attack of neuritis, which has kept him off duty since the 23d of March.

You should look into the beautiful garden of Mr. and Mrs. Howard J. Lloyd on Ontario Street. Here over a thousand blooming tulips of all kinds and colors and two hundred odd clusters of lovely hyacinths greet your eye. Just now it is a veritable fairyland in all its glory and fragrance. Howard has taken a fancy for beautiful flowers.

A pleasant phase was enrolled in the lives of two young deaf friends on April 27th, where the Rev. Howard L. Roberts, M.A., youngest brother of your Canadian correspondent H. W. Roberts, of Toronto, united in holy wedlock, Miss Mabel Cook, of Aylmer, to Mr. Robert McKenzie, Jr., of New Durham. The ceremony was performed at the parsonage of the Colborne Street United Church in this city. They needed no interpreter, as Rev. Mr. Roberts can converse with the deaf fluently. The young couple left for a short wedding trip through the Niagara district, and are now at home on the farm of the groom's father, near New Durham. Both of the contracting parties are recent graduates of the Belleville school.

ST. THOMAS SPECIALS

The busiest individual in this city just now is our friend, George R. Munro. He is obliged to work overtime every night, but George is a hustler and makes the "Capers" burn.

Our Mission work, recently opened here, is going on buoyantly with increasing interest. We look for another good meeting when Mr. Chas. Elliott, of Toronto, comes up on June 9th. Mr. Frank Harris was up from the "Queen City," on May 12th, and gave a splendid address to a good crowd. Mrs. George R. Munro held an euche party at her comfortable home on April 26th, and a great time was passed by those present. Miss Hazel Nicholson, a cousin of H. W. Roberts, of Toronto, being one of them. The popular hostess not only served dainty lunch, but gave nice prizes to the winners as well.

Our most profound sympathy goes out to Miss Ritta Windrim in her keen and sad loss. On April 16th, her beloved mother, after a brave fight for the prolongation of her life against a dread disease, finally yielded and crossed the Eternal Line. Mrs. Windrim was taken to the Victoria Hospital in London five weeks previously, where she was operated on for an inward growth of cancer, and although the best medical attention and care was given her, the Great Reaper had his way and finally won out. She was a loving mother and kind-hearted friend to all, and many of the deaf will not forget her goodness to them on numerous occasions. But now she suffers no more.

GENERAL GLEANINGS

Last week three subscriptions were sent in, and now one more goes in. The list is steadily growing.

Glad to state that the beloved mother of Thomas A. Middleton, of Horning Hills, who has been laid up lately, is around again. She is well over the fourscore line.

In sending in their renewal for the JOURNAL, the Misses Laura and Catherine Tudhope, of Orillia, find this paper a very useful news letter. These two highly esteemed and popular young ladies, who come from a prominent family, have been subscribers to the JOURNAL for years. Not only are they well liked, but are great entertainers among the deaf.

We regret to say that, at time of writing, word comes from Aurora to the effect that Mrs. Eli Corbieri is quite ill with heart and lung trouble and has been confined to her bed since April 13th, but we are in hopes she will soon rally and be over her troubles once more.

Rumor has it that our old friend, Mr. Thomas A. Middleton, of Horning Mills, now sports a new car. No wonder Tom is now smiling under a panoply of prosperity that has come to him and his better half in the wake of ceaseless toil. Mr. Victor Reading, of Redickville, gave them a call on April 27th.

Miss Edith Squire, of Petrolea, writes to say that reading of the sad case of Harold Deitrich, of Kitchener, reminds her of a somewhat similar case that happened in her home town. A friend, Mr. Brain, had a little son, who was totally deaf, but when they sent him to a doctor in Sarnia for an operation on his ear, with a view of restoring his hearing and speech, the result was he became worse and passed away in his eighth year.

Mr. John Taylor, of Singhampton, with some friends motored up to Flesher-ton, on April 20th, where they visited friends. Jack was anxious to go over to Markdale and give friend, T. Herbert Brown, a surprise call, but conditions were not favorable just then. Mr. Taylor's farm, just outside Singhampton, was flooded to a depth of nearly two feet by the recent floods, but no damage was done. Jack says the Nottagawa River hard by is now a paradise for speckled trout.

The whereabouts of Harold Deitrich, of Kitchener, whose disappearance was reported in your last issue, was set at rest, when, on April 28th, his cold and lifeless body was found in a mill pond not far from his home. How he came to meet such a tragic death is unknown. We believe if he had been sent to the Belleville school a few years ago, he would be alive today. Such is the ignorance of parents who neglect to send their children to school.

Old schoolmates of Howard Davidson, who formerly lived in Brockville, Ont., will now learn that he is working up in North Dakota. It is many, many years since he was seen or heard of last, but now the JOURNAL has tracked him down. He is living with his aged mother.

HERBERT W. ROBERTS.

George W. Ryan

George W. Ryan was born February 11, 1899 in New York City, and totally blind and partially deaf at birth, or in early infancy from measles. His sister, Genevieve, born two years earlier, and who died January 31, 1922, was, at the same age similarly afflicted, even to a greater degree.

Both had attended Public School, No. 30 (blind department), for five years, and the New York Institution for the Blind one year, prior to entering Fanwood on September 17, 1914.

George remained in school until graduation in June, 1925, receiving a diploma for the grammar course. Learned chair caning, rug and mat weaving, and basketry.

Since that time he had been variously occupied at workshops for the blind in New York City, until steadily increasing ill health made it inadvisable for him to work.

He died April 30th, at Bellevue Hospital, of ulcers of the stomach.

George made many friends here and is affectionately remembered for his strikingly sunny disposition, the devotion and attachment shown toward his sister, for his jocularity and ever-ready willingness to join in good-natured banter.

In school, his achievements were not brilliant, but he was an earnest, steady worker; effort and conduct, excellent. Funeral services were held Thursday, May 2d, 9:30 A.M., at 4321 Wilson Avenue, Astoria, L. I.

Requiem mass was held at St. Joseph's Church, Grand and Fourteenth Streets, Astoria.

Why is Ireland like a bottle? Because there is a Cork in it.

FLORIDA FLASHES

Sunday, April 28th, was the last day of the religious activities of the Florida Mission for the Deaf at the Methodist Episcopal Church in St. Cloud, and no further services will be conducted there or in the state until the advent of the tourist season.

Superintendent Frank E. Philpott, of the Mission, preached from Exodus 8:10, dwelling on the subject, "And he said: Tomorrow." Solo musical numbers were rendered during the service. Miss Vina Smith, a former deaconess among the deaf of Chicago, closed the meeting with a beautiful and uplifting prayer.

The Silent Bible Class will continue to meet in St. Cloud through the summer, it is announced. The average attendance is four out of ten residents.

Since the founding of the Mission, in October, 1926, the following statistics are furnished herewith:—

RECEIPTS

The average attendance at above services was twenty. Approximately 550 pieces of mail have been sent out.

The Florida Mission for the Deaf appreciates the many courtesies extended to it by churches of different denominations in the state, and as soon as transportation problems are solved, great things are expected of this organization in the near future.

By the time this news letter appears in the JOURNAL, the fifth triennial session of the Florida Association of the Deaf will be a week away. The writer will represent the JOURNAL at the convention in the role of subscription agent and correspondent. For nearly two years he has chronicled the doings of the deaf of Florida every month. The subscription list is growing. May the JOURNAL tribe increase!

We learn on good authority that Mrs. C. L. Jackson, of Atlanta, Ga., widely known in the Southern States as a promoter of things which are making for the development of the education and social life of the deaf of the South, one of the staunch supporters of the Dixie Association of the Deaf, which was recently organized, will be the guest of her friend, Mrs. A. W. Pope, in St. Augustine, during the convention of the Florida Association of the Deaf.

The Winter Haven Chief, date April 25th, printed the following society item: "Miss Mary Jim Crump was hostess to the Wednesday Morning Bridge Club, at her home on Lake Roy yesterday, the party being held on the lawn of the lovely old place, tables being set up under the trees. The weather was delightful, and a very pleasant morning was spent at play. A course luncheon was served the guests at the close of the morning's play, covers being laid for Mesdames Furman Jarrett, Edith Erwin, Harvey Henderson, John Miller, Gilbert Lester, Harold Gaymon, E. C. Wimberly, the club guest and the hostess, Miss Crump. Miss Crump is well known to the deaf in many parts of the United States, having attended one year at Gallaudet College after her graduation at the St. Augustine school. In her home town, Miss Crump is a popular and attractive woman of the younger set."

The reduction in the working force in a printery at Orlando was effected when Albert Holloway, one of its oldest employees, was given a several months' leave of absence without pay. Mr. Holloway availed himself of this opportunity. April 22d, by motoring to Georgia and other points in the North. If he strikes a good job in that section, he will stay away all summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert C. Wortman entertained Mrs. Frederick Parker, of New York City, at their attractive home in St. Petersburg on April 18th, at an afternoon dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Cory, neighbors of the Wortmans, were invited to help make the occasion delightfully enjoyable. Mrs. Parker, who was prior to her marriage Miss Helen Atkins, is rapidly convalescing from a recent operation and will return North as soon as her deaf sister comes home from the St. Augustine school, which closes May 18th.

David R. Tillinghast, Fanwood's oldest alumnus, will terminate his winter sojourn with his married daughter in St. Petersburg, and attend the fifth triennial convention of the Florida Association of the Deaf at St. Augustine on his way back home to Spartansburg, S. C. The convention will get under way on May 23d-25th.

George Harnening's anatomy is much dissected. Though not robust in constitution, he is able to make a meager living on his farm in Dover with disability benefits issued by a fraternal society, of which he has been a member for many years. Owing to the fact that a division has been instituted in Miami, his membership will be transferred there from Chicago. He and his wife were educated at the Indianapolis school.

Laurence Randall is holding onto his position with the Orange Press in Winter Park, in the linotyping department. Previous to his coming there, he was employed on the Daytona Beach Journal-News.

The Rev. O. W. Wilson, of Fort Worth, Texas, connected with the Department of Independent and Direct Missions of the Southern Baptist Convention at Atlanta, Ga., was in Florida during the week of April 17th, occupying pulpits in Jacksonville, St. Augustine and Daytona Beach. Mr. Wilson, who is an assistant to Rev. J. W. Michaels, left on the following Monday for Columbus, Ga., to fill a similar engagement.

Many friends of Rev. S. M. Freeman, whose pastorate is in Atlanta, Ga., will regret to learn of his inability to accept an invitation extended to him by the program committee to act as chaplain of the convention at St. Augustine, which will be in session from May 23d to May 25th. The failing health of Mr. Freeman is assigned as the reason. He officiated three years ago at the Miami meeting.

According to the tentative program which appeared in the School Herald, published at the St. Augustine school, Rev. J. W. Michaels will be in attendance upon the reunion and open the morning session of the first day with an invocation prayer. He will probably have charge of the Sunday service at the First Baptist Church.

Since coming to St. Cloud in January as the guest of her life-long friend, Mrs. Frank E. Philpott, Miss Vina Smith has been enjoying every minute of her sojourn in the land of sunshine and recreation, and is so much enamored of the beauty and charm of the year-round climate that she has expressed her intention of returning each winter to bask in the sunshine on the sun porch of the world. She is proceeding enroute to her home in Lake Bluff, Ill., stopping in St. Augustine for a few days to be in attendance at the convention of the Florida Association of the Deaf. While there Miss Smith will be afforded an opportunity to meet a number of friends whom she has not seen in a long time.

The dry cleaning and pressing establishment, operated by R. W. Davis and his wife, is one of St. Cloud's leading industries. In and out of season the business volume has been remarkably substantial. The plant is completely equipped to take care of the city trade. He believes this line of work is the best investment a deaf person can make, one possessing capital, ambition and good will.

According to a trade journal, just issued, Louis Eagle who is now connected with the Sebring American, is seeking a world to conquer. As an operator he has an enviable reputation, and believes it is high time to emerge out of swaddling clothes and move into a big city office where opportunities to utilize his talent are many and varied. Though he and his charming wife are semi-mutes, they are well liked and respected by many of their deaf friends in the state.

Messrs. C. H. Cory and Bert C. Wortman, of St. Petersburg, together with their inseparable life companions who have pledged to stay married for better or for worse, will leave late in the summer season for Ohio, where they will not only attend the Columbus reunion, but visit their relatives and friends in their respective homes, as well. They will linger there until the weather makes it too uncomfortable for them to endure, and to Florida they will hie back.

A deaf sister-in-law of venerable David R. Tillinghast, of St. Petersburg, came down from Raleigh, N. C., with her married daughter for a two weeks' visit. They returned home on May 4th.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Cory threw open their delightful home at Bay Street and Eighth Avenue North, St. Petersburg, to a large gathering of friends Sunday afternoon, April 28th, the occasion being a linen shower given in honor of Miss Susie E. Williams, Seminole Road, of that city, who is soon to be married. The rooms were decorated with beautiful flowers. After all guests had arrived, Miss Williams was surprised with many beautiful and useful linen gifts. The rest of the afternoon was spent socially, and at five o'clock a buffet luncheon was served by the hostess. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Cory, Miss Susie Williams, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Wortman, Mrs. Mary Burton, Leon A. Carter, Mrs. Mary Carter, and Miss Lillian Williams, all of St. Petersburg; D. R. Tillinghast, Spartansburg, S. C.; Mrs. T. H. Tillinghast, Raleigh, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Whitely and daughter Frances, Tampa; Mrs. Frederick Parker, New York City; and Miss Annie Nelson and her brother Mr. Clemons, of Plant City.

Miss Williams, whose engagement to a Cincinnati (Ohio) man has just been announced, will be "spliced" in August. She was educated at the Knoxville (Tenn.) school, but before she could finish her courses, her folks moved to St. Petersburg, five years ago, for the benefit of her sister's health.

It has been learned just now that Mr. Klein, an alumnus of the Fanwood school, is visiting in Florida and expects to remain in Sarasota a twelve month.

Among the Buckeyes sojourning in Florida are Mr. and Mrs. Owen Daugherty, whose present address is Route 1, Sarasota.

The Ringling circus will establish a winter headquarters at Lakeland, next winter, it is semi-officially stated. The change is contemplated because the salt air at Sarasota is not conducive to the health of the menagerie. Mrs. Ringling is a sister of Mrs. Bert C. Wortman, of St. Petersburg.

New Jersey

A regular monthly meeting of the Newark Hebrew Club for the Deaf was held Sunday afternoon, May 5th, at the Jewish Day Nursery, Livingston Street and 17th Avenue. Plans have been made for an outing to Asbury Park on June 23d. Morris Zimmerman is chairman of arrangements. Plans for Sunday evening socials were also discussed. The club meets regularly the first Sunday afternoon of the month. Mr. Julius Aaron is the president.

Which is heavier—the new moon or the full moon? The new moon, because the full moon is lighter.

"Mother—Is it correct to say, 'Water a horse' when he's thirsty?"

"Yes, dear; quite correct."

"Well, give me a saucer. I'm going to milk the cat."—Exchange.

Wilksburg, Pa.

We are glad to acknowledge the receipt of a belated Easter greeting card from our erratic friend, Mr. Castellana, of Montana, but it came from Frederick, Maryland, so we are somewhat puzzled as to the gentleman's location. He may have been lost on one of his larks during the Easter season, which would account for its coming from our neighboring state. Anyway, we were glad to have been in his mind at that joyous season. It also indicates he is still making a joy of living, so may he live long and prosper.

The benefit bridge party, under the auspices of the Teachers' Training Alumni Association of the Western Pennsylvania School for the Deaf, April 19th, was from all angles a great success. There were tables to accommodate the 146 players present, and the profits were reported to be $75.90, which is sufficient proof that the affair was a great success in every way. It shows that the objects of the association were generously supported by the alumni and friends of the school, and encouraging to the promoters of the entertainment.

On a recent Sunday, Mrs. Ada Belle Kooztz, of Boston, Pa., and Miss Earle Bolton, now of the North Side, Pittsburgh, were attendants at church in Wilksburg, where Mr. Read interprets for the deaf. Then, after having lunch at one of our popular tea rooms, they called on their old teacher and friend, Mr. and Mrs. Teegarden, who were more than pleased to entertain them and recall school days and entertainments enjoyed at the school in years gone by. The ladies also called on Mrs. Rolshouse and other friends in Wilksburg.

Howard Walker is still in quest of a job, but has hopes of work at Wilmerding when industrial activities quicken. Being idle at the time, he attended the opening ball game at Forbes Field between the Pirate and Chicago Clubs, April 24th, and was duly thrilled when his favorites came out victorious. The Pirates, by the way, have not done so well since.

Mr. Edward Breen, of the South Side, is now holding a good job in Wilksburg with the "Ser-vus," dyeing and cleaning plant, as a presser and cleaner. He is pleased with the Wilksburg plant and will likely join the W. S. C., as it is very convenient to his place of employment.

Mr. Claude A. Teeple, who but recently brought his bride and set up his household gods at Donora, where he was employed as a linotype operator, has decided to return to his home town, Ashland, Ohio, as he is offered better pay for his work there. Wilksburgers regret losing the association of this promising young man, but hope he may find it to his advantage to return later on. He will maintain his connection with the Frat. No. 109, however. May he prosper and return this way often, is the wish of his friends here.

Dr. I. L. Kinney, the "foot specialist," was dispensing pleasantries at the W. S. C. rooms recently. He is the same entertainer as of yore and reports a rushing sort of business at his offices in Turtle Creek. We are glad to know he has a plenty to keep him busy. He is a prospective social member of the Frat Division, No. 109.

Mrs. Teegarden had the opportunity—and pleasure—of calling on Mrs. E. B. Clark, Knoxville, the other day. The old timers of the school, in the Turtle Creek period, will remember her as Miss Blanche Roup. They will be pleased to know she still remembers her old pupils and others of those early days, and still takes a keen interest in the deaf generally. She has not forgotten her spelling and signs yet and can talk of old times as fluently as ever.

We encountered Mr. John Kuharski on the trolley car the other day, and found he has a steady job in a restaurant at Wilmerding. It is mostly night work, but he says he likes it and receives fair wages.

May 18th is the date set for the Mock Trial at the W. S. C. Hall. Better come along and see what it is all about.

WE HAVE often admired the good work of the printing department of the North Dakota School for the Deaf, and have equally often been tempted to mention it to the readers of the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL. So without any belittlement of papers or periodicals published at other Institutions for the Education of the Deaf, we invite them all to applaud the really skillfully constructed monthly that is issued by the Institution for the Deaf at Devils Lake, N. Dak. Our observations include the following statements in brief, which cover nearly all the good points that are worthy of consideration, omitting the general education imparted in the classroom.

Typographical nicety.
Rules of good workmanship observed in composition.
Punctuation and syllabic divisions of words correct.
Ornamental dashes neither too large nor too small to suit the text.
Headings quite appropriate in size and uniformity.
Paging correct and tasteful in makeup.

Display work proportioned and in good taste and well balanced.
As for the press work, its excellence suggests the skilled journeyman rather than the raw apprentice. The half-tones are indicative of a good pressman.

The cover, with the monthly difference in design and character, is printed in properly blended colors.

Taken altogether the periodical is issued at monthly intervals in a style that defies even the hypercritical.

While it is the abiding place to those who live there, to those situated in the geographical section which embraces New York, it is away out in North Dakota, and the deaf boys who are privileged to be enrolled in the department of the school that teaches the "Art Preservative" are very fortunate indeed.

It offers a future for them that is very useful, and at the same time a very pleasant and profitable occupation.

Like all branches of education that trains the mind and eye and hand, that ennobles character through industrious effort, the one thing indispensable to progress and future success is a teacher that can inspire his pupils and bring out the best that is in them. If the Advocate is a sample of what the apprentices of the North Dakota school can do, it will be their recommendation for well-paid positions after they have graduated.

There are many thousands of good printers, but the combination of first-class teacher and high-grade, all-around printer, is rare.

OMAHA

The Midwest Chapter of the Gallaudet Owls held a bridge party at the home of Mrs. Lily M. Treuke, Friday evening, April 19th. Their husbands and gentlemen friends were invited, making nine couples in all. A beautiful Van Briggle lamp, donated by Mrs. George W. Veditz of Colorado, was raffled off at a dollar a chance and won by Mrs. Effie W. Anderson. This added $18.00 to the scholarship fund, thanks to the kindness of Mrs. Veditz. Mrs. J. S. Long and Norman G. Scarvie won the prizes for highest scores at bridge. Delicious refreshments, consisting of chicken salad, rolls, coffee and Paradise pudding, wound up a jolly evening. Due credit is given Miss Mary Dobson, president; Mrs. Effie W. Anderson and Mrs. Lily M. Treuke, for managing the party.

The Fontenelle Literary Society staged at public meeting, Saturday night, April 20th, at the Nebraska School auditorium. In spite of inclement weather, a good crowd was present. Dr. J. Schuyler Long's talk was the main attraction on the program and, as usual, a good drawing-card. He spoke on "Investments," not stocks, bonds and real estate, but "personal" investments and he held his audience in close attention for over half an hour. He said that being a member of the Literary Society was a large investment. Nick Petersen's rendition of "Abou Ben Adhem" was a surprise to all. He signed it gracefully and rhythmically without a break. Mrs. Emma M. Seely gave some current events, which were well received. The debate by Ziba L. Osmun and Robert E. Dobson on, "Resolved, That it is better to own a house in Omaha than to rent one," was entertaining and instructive. No decision was announced. Leo R. Holway and Eugene Fry, another "Cohen and Kelly team," gave a dialogue that was good for a laugh a minute. Mr. Holway's make-up was lifelike and grotesque. Mr. Fry imitated a bored and disgusted Irishman to perfection. Every one had a good time. Refreshments were served.

Hans Neujahr, who has been a linotype operator on the Leigh World at Leigh, Nebraska, for the past eighteen months, is now working in South Omaha with the Magic Printing Company. He is a congenial sort of a fellow and while in Leigh he made a host of friends. However the Omaha folks are glad to have him back.

Mrs. Edith O'Brien was a hostess to a number of friends at a bridge party, Monday evening, April 22d, in the N. S. D. girls' reading room. Mrs. Leo Holway won the prize for the highest score.

Harold Lee came down from Minneapolis, Minn., April 20th, after attending the funeral of his father, Worthy Lee, who died at Wichita, Kan., the 17th, having gone there to interest some business men in an invention of his. Another son, Clarence, who resides in Portland, Ore., was unable to come on account of the distance. Harold left for his home the same night.

On Sunday, April 28th, Nick Peterson pitched his first game of baseball for the Omaha Prints, who are in the Metropolitan League. A large crowd of deaf fans mingled with the 8,000 spectators and enjoyed Nick's playing. There was a good write-up, with a photograph of "Silent Nick," in the papers next day. The Omaha Prints won over the Saunders-Drive-Its by 10 to 2. Without a doubt Nick is a splendid asset to the team.

We hope the series of autobiographies being published in the Nebraska Journal will be put together in book form, as several people have suggested. The latest is by Dr. J. Schuyler Long, principal of the Iowa School. He "believes in looking on the brighter side of life," like Chico, the sewer worker in "Seventh Heaven." He certainly makes things brighter for the deaf of this community by telling jokes and stories and by entertaining lectures at the two state schools. He realizes that our compensation for missing the delights of music is that we are not obliged to listen to countless disagreeable noises in this "mechanical age."

Omaha Division, not wishing to be outdone by the "Lit" and the Gallaudet Alumni in giving high-class entertainment, decided to hold a Mardi Gras ball on April 27th. A beautiful up-to-date hall in the downtown district was selected and music furnished for dancing. Confetti and serpentine were sold in large quantities and contributed to the gaiety of the occasion.

The cash prizes for best costumes were won by the following: Mrs. James R. Jelinek, Queen of Sheba; and Edmund Berney, Mephistopheles; Miss Ruth Neujahr, gypsy; and George Revers, clown; Mrs. Harry G. Long, ballet girl; and Hans Neujahr, Spanish boy. Master Homer Long as a Brownie won the children's prize. Ziba L. Osmun won the handsome cedar chest and Emmett Osterlink a smoking stand as door prizes.

Scott Cuscaden was crowned the King of the Mardi Gras by the master of ceremonies, Harry G. Long. The Queen, Miss Ruth Neujahr was then crowned by the king.

The King was selected by the committee as an honor for his work and loyalty to the Division. The Queen was chosen by popular vote, each vote costing one cent. Their identities had been kept a secret till the last minute.

The King, Queen and two crown-bearers, Misses Elizabeth Holway and Dorothy Macek, wore appropriate costumes. Master Robert Mullin and little Betty Gomme were pages to the queen. The queen received a beautiful vase filled with artificial flowers.

A short humorous play was given by Messrs. Abe Rosenblatt and Hans Neujahr, "A Modern Romeo and Juliet"; and another by Robert E. Dobson and Riley E. Anothny, "A Red-Hot Message." Mr. Rosenblatt as Juliet in a short dress, cut decollete, was full of pep, and Mr. Neujahr was pretty rough. Mr. Anthony could not have done better as an old-fashioned farmer and "Dr." Dobson's talk was not calculated to inspire much respect for the medical profession. A magician, engaged for the evening, failed to show up, on account of a misunderstanding. The classy refreshments consisted of brick ice-cream and frosted cakes, and raspberry punch was sold. Several gallons more could have been disposed of.

The committee in charge consisted of Harry G. Long, chairman, George Revers, Nick Petersen, Leo R. Holway, Emil Henriksen and Robert W. Mullin. Out-of-town visitors were Leslie H. Allison, Kansas, and Tom Harris, Onawa, Ia. A larger crowd would have turned out had it not been for the heavy rainstorm. This also accounted for the absence of the Lincoln deaf and others. More than one hundred attended and nearly half of these were in costume. That it was a great night and a swell affair goes without saying.

Mrs. A. L. Hurt has sold her home and furniture and expects to leave for Los Angeles about May 15th. Mr. Hurt and their two married daughters are already living there, and the youngest daughter, Nancy Lee, will follow in a couple of months. A host of friends are sorry to see this popular and hospitable family move away. May happiness, health and prosperity, attend them.

Lieutenant Owen Comp, of the U. S. S. Saratoga, accompanied by his wife and daughter, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Comp, recently. He will teach at the naval academy at Annapolis, while taking a two-year's post-graduate course.

R. E. Dobson is sporting a button from the Nebraska Power Co., for five years of continuous service to the company. This is further evidence that the average deaf man can keep his job as long as he wants to.

Miss Helen Holway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo R. Holway, was hit by a speeding auto near her home on April 25th. She was dragged for some distance by the car, and received two cuts on the head and minor bruises on the body. She was rushed to the University Hospital and was able to go to school the following week. The driver of the car will probably settle out of court. Helen is a Sophomore at Technical High School and was very fortunate to escape permanent and serious injury.

Allentown News

On May 4th, the Allentown Club for the Deaf held its fourth annual banquet at the Shankweilers Hotel, seven miles from Allentown. Approximately seventy-eight, many of whom came from Philadelphia, Reading, Harrisburg and some other small towns, were present, which is considerably larger than last year.

Lloyd Charlesworth, present president of the club, had to take the place of Frederick Wolfe, past president, as toastmaster, who was compelled to do night work, and opened the toast by introducing J. Roach, of Philadelphia, the club's honorary guest, whose talk was impressive and enjoyable. Edwin Ritchie, president of the P. S. A. D., delivered an admirable address and then was followed by Mr. Donahue, president of the Philadelphia branch of P. S. A. D.; Rev. Pulver, Pennsylvania missionary preacher, and Edwin Kaercher, student-preacher for the Lutheran deaf.

A chicken and waffle menu, dancing and playing games, were immensely enjoyed. The big success of the affair was due to the good efforts of the committee, consisting of H. Berger, L. Charlesworth and H. Snyder.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Kraus enjoyed a visit with their friends in Fleetwood, Pa., on April 28th.

Howard E. Newhard has left for Detroit, Mich., to seek work. He was missed by a large number of his friends, but they hope that he will be forced to return by homesickness in a short time.

Herbert McPherson has purchased a good-looking Dodge sedan that has been used only on demonstration. He invited his friends to take a ride to the banquet, on the day he commenced to use it.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, of Bethlehem, have moved to another and better house.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith, of Shenandoah, Pa., were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell in Bethlehem, May 4th. They were at the banquet.

CHICAGO

The members of the Ephpheta Club pleasantly surprised Irving O'Brien at the club house Wednesday, May 8th. A large number gathered there early. When Mr. O'Brien's wife took him to the club house for a meeting, they sprang on him to remind him of his birthday. He recovered from his surprise and thanked them all for the pleasure and donation gives him in appreciation of his long service in the organization and growth of the club. Ed. Toomey, Mrs. C. Lamb and other speakers, spoke in praise of Mr. O'Brien's past activities. At the close of the evening, ice-cream and cakes were served.

The members of the Pas-a-Pas Club are well fixed in the new hall on the ninth floor, after moving its quarters there from the old hall. The new hall is larger than the old one, and light and airy.

The lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hayford at Lyons, Ill., five miles west of here, was the lively scene of a gathering of invited deaf friends, all members of the Ephpheta Club, in celebration of Mr. Hayford's birthday, Saturday evening, May 4th. Their home being far from the town and no buses running after midnight, the guests had to remain all night, passing a social time in merriment and games till the next morning.

The members of the Frats, No. 1, gathered at the Capital Building for the transaction of business at the monthly meeting Tuesday, May 7th. The club will hold a "500" and bunco party at the same building Saturday evening, May 25th.

The Ephpheta Club team defeated a team of nine hearing boys in a baseball game, by a score of 7 to 4, Sunday, May 5th.

The members of the Lutheran Club for the Deaf played "500" and bunco for prizes, at the Lutheran Church on Saturday, May 4th.

The E. S. Association held a monthly business meeting at the Ephpheta Club house, Sunday, May 5th, at 4 p.m. After that, a social time was spent in conversation in the evening.

Notices have been issued to parents the guardians that the Illinois School for the Deaf will be closed for vacation Friday, June 7th, and all pupils will return home to rest from their hard studies.

There will be "500" and bunco party at the Ephpheta Club house, Wednesday, May 24th, at 8 p.m., with Frank Riha as chairman. Admission, fifty cents, including wardrobe.

Mrs. Sarah Holmes, of Batavia, Ill., stopped off in Chicago for some time, Tuesday, May 7th, on her way to Detroit, Mich., to see her nephew on business for three days.

The members of the Hebrew deaf club enjoyed themselves in "500" and bunco for prizes at Bruno Hall, Sunday, May 5th.

The Home Club of Delavan, Wis., held an election of the following officers to serve for the following year: President, H. Willie; Vice-President, Mrs. Tracy Jones; Secretary, Mrs. Oliver Ducharme; Treasurer, Vera Tinney. After the election, a bunco party was enjoyed for prizes.

Mrs. Myra Brottlund entertained the members of the Book Club at the Wisconsin State School, Tuesday, May 7th, and a good time is reported.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lange, Jr., of Evanston, Ill., spent the week-end at the home of his parents, Prof. and Mrs. Paul Lange, at Delavan, Wis. Accompanied by the senior Mr. Lange and Mrs. Laura Crosby and daughter, Anita, motored to Madison, Wis., Sunday, and visited Miss Anna May Lange, a student at the university.

The Ephpheta school for Catholic deaf children has received a donation of $3000 from the Catholic Charities of Chicago in a fund drive.

Guy Hoagland, who is an assembler at the Hoagland Electric Factory, is absent from his work on account of illness.

John J. Walsh, a former pupil of the Ephpheta school here, came in from Birmingham, Alabama, this week, in search of a job as decorator and painter.

James Leary was killed and his wife badly hurt in an auto accident at Toledo, O., according to word received by Mr. and Mrs. A. Novotny. Those who know them regret to hear of the sad accident.

Assisted by several lady members of the Methodist Mission, Mrs. Foster and her assistant, representing an advertising concern, prepared a dinner at the Headquarters, which was partaken of by seventy-five. Its proceeds will be applied to the rent of the hall. The dinner was followed by an address made by the Reverend Philip Yarrow, of the Illinois Vigilance Association, on several conditions of the country and of the city. It left a deep impression on the audience and was also educational.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Whitson, the Ladies' Aid Society now plans a strawberry festival for June 8th, at the Methodist Headquarters. Reserve the date, attend the festival and help reduce the rental deficit.

Mrs. J. Gays Marsch was again taken to the Wesley Memorial Hospital for better care and treatment.

The Epworth League Chapter elected the following officers for the year beginning with their installation on Sunday the 12th inst:—

Mr. W. A. Zollinger, President; Miss Roberta Grous, First Vice-President; Mrs. Franklin A. Martin, Second Vice-President; Mrs. Aphonse Walter, Third Vice-President; Miss Anna Schaeffer, Fourth Vice-President; Mrs. Dora B. McCoy, Secretary; Edwin T. Stafford, Treasurer.

The Ladies' Aid Society had an interesting meeting, preceded by a fine luncheon served by Mrs. Tanzar, at her home last Wednesday.

THIRD FLAT.

PORTLAND, ORE.

Mr. John Ross and Miss Bonita Tussing, two popular young people of Portland, were united in marriage on Saturday night, April 27th, at the home of Rev. E. Eichmann, who performed the ceremony. Their many Portland and Salem friends wish them joy, happiness and a prosperous life. Mr. Ross has a good position as painter in a large local furniture factory. They are now living in an apartment, but expect to soon join the home-owners and buy a house. Mrs. Ross is employed at the Miers & Franks department store.

Mr. Lloyd Hudson is back in town, after a couple of years' absence. He landed a good job in a big furniture factory and says he will stick to it, as he likes his job. Mr. Hudson is a very industrious young fellow. He is six feet tall and handsome, and is a great help with the Portland deaf baseball team, which may play the Vancouver deaf soon.

The Portland Frats held a smoker on Saturday night, April 27th. After a short initiation, the doors were opened to the ladies of the S. F. L. Club, to see a wrestling match between Mr. Taylor of Portland and Mr. Brouhard of Camas, Wash. The grapplers gave a fine exhibition. Mr. Brouhard, who does a good deal of wrestling among the hearing, came out best, but Mr. Taylor, a much smaller man, showed up well, considering the little practice he does.

Mrs. Charles Lynch, of Salem, came next and showed that people do not need to jump into the fountain of youth in order to keep young. She illustrated how old people should act in order to keep young by dancing and other exercise, even when the baby is in with the child in the arms. The event ended with fine refreshments and cold soft drinks. The success of the entertainment was due to Mr. Courtland Greenwald, who was chairman.

The writer of the Portland column wishes to correct an error concerning Mr. H. Greenwood. It was stated that Mr. Greenwood was employed as a linotyper. Mr. Greenwood is a press feeder, not a linotyper.

With Mr. A. W. Wright as general chairman for the annual Half Way Picnic of the Portland and Seattle Divisions, N. F. S. D., a big time will be had this year, with new attractions. Place and program will be out later. The Committee consists as follows:—

For Seattle, A. W. Wright, chairman; J. Bertram, C. Reese, Lowell and Sanders.

For Portland, H. P. Nelson, C. H. Linde, O. Van Eman, John Ross and J. O. Reichle.

Out west, where there will be two conventions and the big Midway Picnic, and with Grand President Gibson's visit during the conventions at Vancouver, B. C., and Seattle, Wash., deaf tourists from the east or any place else should time their trip so as to attend these big events.

Some of the Portland deaf people were shocked recently to learn of the fatal accident in Detroit, Mich., of Mrs. Mary De Vlieg. Mrs. De Vlieg was in Portland a few years ago, visiting her daughter, Mrs. Hodgkins. Mrs. De Vlieg was a very pleasant old lady and made many warm friends during her stay in the Rose City. She made two visits here, both lasting four or five months. She first called upon Mrs. H. P. Nelson, whom she met in Detroit during their visit there in 1924. Mrs. De Vlieg was a widow for seven years, her husband having died in Grand Rapids, where she was taken for burial alongside of her husband. Our deep sympathy goes out to her children, who survive her.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OF THE NEW JERSEY SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF.

There will be two sessions of important business to be held at the Moose Home, East State and Canal Streets, Trenton, N. J., on May 30th. The first session will start at 11 o'clock a.m., and the other, at 1 o'clock p.m. The hall is five minutes walk from the P. R. R. station.

Three special buses have been chartered for this date, one from Newark, another from Jersey City, and the third one from Paterson.

Come, one and all, to the support of your Alma Mater.

DETROIT

News items intended for this column should be sent to Mrs. Lucy E. May, 2534 Ottawa St., Detroit, Mich. Such news items from Detroiters and vicinity as well as from the deaf of Michigan will be most welcome and have prompt attention.

On April 27th, there was an interesting lecture given by Mr. J. F. Meagher, of Chicago, at the Detroit Fraternal Club of the Deaf.

Mrs. Meagher gave a splendid recitation of "Yankee Doodle" and they gave a laughable dialogue. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Heymanson, who took them sightseeing in this city. They both enjoyed their visit very much.

We all think Mrs. Meagher is a very charming lady and hope they will come again and stay longer. A very good crowd turned out. Out-of-town visitors were Mr. and Mrs. George Tripp, of Flint; Mrs. Harris, of Flint; Mr. and Mrs. Hammersly, of Akron, O.; Mr. and Mrs. A. Kresin, of Port Huron, Mich., and Miss Mae Grennan, of Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Arthur Smith's aged father passed away the first week in April and was buried in Port Huron, Mich. Our sympathy goes to her.

Mrs. Peter Hellers and her nephew motored to Lansing to see her aunt, who is very ill in St. Lawrence Hospital, and Mrs. Hellers paid a visit to Mrs. Preston and Mrs. Collette. They returned home on the same day.

Mrs. Marion (McHugh) Toepler died on Saturday morning, April 27th, in Harper Hospital. The funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon and burial was in Evergreen Cemetery. Mrs. Marion was a very charming lady and has done a great deal of work in helping the deaf. Sympathy goes to her husband and mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ferrah, of Flint, Mich., mourn the loss of their eldest son, who was seventeen years old, and died from a mastoid operation. He was a member of the boy scouts, and had a large funeral.

Howard Newhard, of Allentown, Pa., was a visitor in this city.

Stanley Krieger, Shamokin, Pa., has been working in Detroit for three months as a bricklayer.

Mrs. Glaze has been confined in Herman Keifer Hospital, very ill with broncho-pneumonia. She is doing nicely now.

The Ladies' Guild of Ephpheta Mission had its thirtieth birthday anniversary at St. John's Parish House on May 3d. A good crowd was on hand. Mrs. Gertie Nelson gave a short history about the Ladies' Guild at its beginning thirteen years ago. Mr. Buxton gave a good and interesting talk about "Love and Fidelity" and other subjects. Mrs. Alfeld recited "The Star Spangled Banner" very beautifully. Mrs. Horace Waters recited very gracefully "Yankee Doodle." Everybody enjoyed the occasion. Ice-cream and cake, decorated yellow and blue, and coffee were served.

Misses Osmohson, Kader, Brown and May gave a dialogue and Dutch dance and the Charleston. Mrs. Alfeld's daughter gave a recitation about "Love and Fidelity."

Mrs. Eunice Stark entertained a number of her friends, Thursday, April 17th, at her daughter's residence in Rosedale Park. Cards and bunco were played. A nice luncheon followed. All had a very pleasant time.

Stanley Ball, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ball, and pal from Birmingham, spent every week-end with him. He is Richard Arndel, and both of them know each other since Stanley was two and half years old.

Richard E. Dailey, eyewriter's brother, passed away last Saturday night, May 4th, at Receiving Hospital. Pneumonia caused his death. Funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon and burial in Roseland Park, Royal Oak Cemetery. He was single and had lived with the writer over a year, since he came from Northville.

Albert Goff, a deaf-mute, forty years old, drove his car on National Avenue, and was hit by a street car at Henry Street. His wife and daughter, Ruth, got cut on the head and face. Mrs. Anna Mahl was with them and is seriously hurt on her head and fingers, and her thumb is broken. They are in the Receiving Hospital. Albert Goff and his daughter, eleven months old, were unhurt. He is held by the police of the accident investigation bureau for questioning.

Charles Miller was struck by an auto Friday night, while he was on his way home from work. He ran to get on street car. He may have a fractured skull and is laid up in St. Joseph Sanatorium. We hope he will recover soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Latondies's son, seven and half years old, is very ill with typhoid fever, after undergoing an operation for appendicitis. We all hope he will be out of danger.

Mrs. Mabel Troy and Mrs. Moses Graff, of Kalamazoo, were in this city, to attend the funeral of Mrs. Howe's daughter.

GOODWILL NOTES.

About fifty deaf-mutes attended the "Basket Social," which was held at the Goodwill Club on Saturday evening, April 27th. A good crowd was on hand. The auctioneer was Ralph Hunt. They had lots of fun and good time. Mrs. Alex Lobsinger, a D. A. D. member, was one of the visitors. The club cleared twenty-nine dollars and sixty-five cents from the social.

Mrs. Erma Hunt and Mr. Lee Long arrived home from Chicago, where they were for a few days. All were glad to have them back.

A surprise birthday party was given in honor of Miss Mabel Walter, at her residence, 1341 Watson Street. Games were played. All enjoyed the party.

Mrs. Ollie Tunstall went to see Robert Sullivan, who had his leg shot by an accident. Much better at this time of writing.

On June 20th, Miss Mabel Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Walker, will be married to Harry Cole, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cole, of Chicago, Ill., in Mt. Zion Baptist Church, Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Alexander, Mr. Harry Cole, Miss Mabel Walker, John Felton and Miss Essie Kriggs went to the Shubert Lafayette to see Thurston, the famous magician. He is a real magician. All enjoyed the show. Date ahead—June 1st, Whist Social. MRS. LUCY MAY.

OHIO

May 1st, instead of the regular monthly teachers' meeting, found the teachers and foremen of the shops assembled in the domestic science room, where it was made known to them by Dr. Jones that he had been able to get the money to increase the salaries and the same increase had been approved by Dr. Clifton. After this, ice-cream and cake were served as a sort of celebration over the glad tidings. Mrs. Kreigh Ayers, of Akron, was present and many made known to him their appreciation of his work for the school. The next day Dr. Jones received a note of thanks from the teachers for the efforts he had put forth for the good increase.

Mr. Ayers was in Columbus, attending a meeting of chemists from many sections of the country, to gain ideas to help him in his work at Goodyears, where he holds a responsible position.

The Columbus Epsilon Chapter of the Kappa Gamma Fraternity of Gallaudet College was entertained April 26th, at dinner at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Ohlemacher, and the way the "eats" disappeared into the inner man was proof that the dinner was a good one. Poor Mr. J. C. Wine-miller was the only member not able to enjoy the feast. Later a business meeting was held.

Mr. James Pring, of Huntington, West Va., and well known to many deaf of southeastern Ohio, was a caller at the school last week. He is an assistant cashier for the Chesapeake & Ohio R. R. and is enjoying a two-weeks' vacation. He is a product of the West Virginia school and has been employed by the C. O. R. R. for thirteen years.

Mr. and Mrs. August Beckert motored to Piqua, May 5th, to see the former's people there.

Messrs. Emerson and Robert Shimp, of Toledo, were in Piqua Saturday, April 28th, for a short time on their way from Dayton to visit their old home in Troy, where their father lived before moving to Toledo. Both are sons of the late Isaac Shimp and both hold good positions in Toledo and are looking after their mother.

A large crowd attended the social of the Springfield Ladies' Aid Society. Those attending from nearby towns were Mr. and Mrs. Riddle, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Slonkowski, Mrs. R. Landis, Mrs. E. J. Holycross, of Piqua; Mr. R. Conkling, Versailles; and Mr. L. Bowser, of Dayton.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Black, of Piqua, had a glorious trip to Akron, and took with them Mr. and Mrs. Peterson and Mr. M. Samhal, of Dayton. They attended the Akron carnival.

Mrs. Mildred Manula has issued invitations to friends to the marriage of her daughter, Mary, to Mr. Leo R. Gilboy, May 12th, at Weirton, West Virginia.

Another marriage that recently took place was that of Miss Clara D. Neuner and Mr. John Stout, of Circleville, O. The bride is quite well known to the deaf in Ohio.

At present the Ohio Home has forty deaf residents in it. The latest is Mr. Joseph McHugh, who came from Cincinnati. A new water system has been completed at the Home.

We saw it stated in one of the Columbus papers that there are about 8,000,000 people who are victims of defective hearing in the United States. The statement included those partially deaf and those totally deaf. Then the writer went on to tell about the methods used in teaching the deaf in the schools provided for them. He ended with that there are children in the state school at Columbus, who read accurately the words spoken by actors in the talking movies. We doubt very much that many of the deaf pupils or the hard of hearing people even are so proficient in lip-reading as to do that. One thing against good lip-reading at the talkies is that the actors' mouths are not always in a good position to be read, and another is the awful strain on the eyes when one tries to follow the lips at the movies for a long time. Some people have lips so expressive that they are easily read, while others are much harder to understand. But the real pleasure of the movies is lost to the deaf now.

THE DEAF-MUTES' UNION LEAGUE'S SPRING FESTIVAL DANCE.

At the New York Turn Hall, Lexington Avenue and 85th Street, on Saturday night, May 11th, the Deaf-Mutes' Union League held its Spring Festival Dance.

The committee issued a great program, and on the first page, it contained the following greetings:

Ever true to its policy, which stood the test of forty-three years, the DEAF-MUTES' UNION LEAGUE is again in line as a host to the merry masses this evening.

It is with sincere hope that this event is but a link of the long chain of happy and successful ones in the past.

The aim of our organization is the cultivation of friendships, the encouragement of good fellowship and the furtherance of moral and social obligations.

With best wishes for a glad time and pleasant dreams.

The chief attraction of the evening was the waltz contest for cash prizes.

The following judges were appointed by Chairman Sussman, Mrs. Bella Blumenthal, Miss Ruby Abrams, Mrs. Edward Bradley, Mr. Frank Hoppaugh and Mr. Paul DiAnno.

Over one hundred couples took part in the contest. The elimination continued until five were left, then the judges retired, and afterwards, the arrangements committee made the awards.

First prize of ten dollars to each was captured by Mr. John Stigliabotti and Miss Peggy Sexton.

Second prize of eight dollars each to Mr. John Schmidt and Miss Patsy Schrader.

Third prize of five dollars each to Mr. Al. Cohen and Mrs. Sidelle.

Dancing was kept up the entire evening, J. Havas and his crimson club Orchestra furnished the music. It consisted of seven pieces. Those who could hear that were present said it was very good dance music. There were twenty-eight numbers and the dancers enjoyed every one of them.

The Arrangement Committee were the Entertainment Committee of the League, which have charge of the entire entertainment program for 1929, Messrs. Charles Sussman (chairman), Max Hoffman (Secretary), Julius Scandel (Treasurer), Morris O. Kremen and Michael D. Ciavolino.

The floor committee consisted of Henry Hecht, manager; Abraham Barr, Assistant Manager, and the following assistants: Chas. Golden, Moses Schnapp, Leon Wincig, Joseph Abramowitz, Lester Cohen, Louis Uhlberg, George St. Clair, Abraham Jaffe, Benjamin Shafrensky, Irving Blumenthal, David Polinsky, Nathan Herlands, Gustav Lindenschmidt, Harry Hersch, Arthur Taber, Samuel Nadler.

The officers of the Deaf-Mutes' Union League for 1929 are Samuel Frankenheim, President; Emanuel Souweine, First Vice-President; Joseph Sturtz, Second Vice-President; Nathan Schwartz, Secretary; Anthony Capelle, Treasurer; Marcus L. Kenner, Benjamin Friedwald and John N. Funk, Board of Governor.

The Dance terminated in the wee hours of the morning.

The League is to be congratulated for holding an annual dance, which gathers together such fine silent people for an evening of pleasure, and the Committee of Arrangements deserves great credit for their untiring efforts to bring this affair to such a fine ending.

Miss Lena Gualatto, of Brooklyn, was the guest at a surprise shower party given by her sister, Mrs. Marie Sanfilippo, of Jersey City, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Koster in Jamaica, L. I.

A good number of her friends got together and gave her a pleasant time. She was much bewildered as her friends swarmed in and caught her coming down the stairs, while water was being sprinkled down on her.

A very good time was had in all kinds of fun, with a hearty feast at the close.

The bride-to-be was the recipient of many gifts as a memento of the affair. The wedding is to take place June 8th, at St. Joseph's Church, 185 Suydam Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

The lucky groom-to-be is Mr. John Maucere, of Brooklyn, a brother of Mrs. J. Pucca and Mr. Benny Maucere, both deaf-mutes. The guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Shaw and son, Mr. and Mrs. Barbaloa and son, Mr. and H. Koster, Mr. and Mrs. Sanfilippo and children, Mr. and Mrs. Schlipp, Mr. and Mrs. Pucca, Mrs. Drag-netti, Misses Annie Kugeler, Catherine Gualatto, sister of the bride-to-be, Lena Devola, Anna Manusco, Pauline and Margaret Bruco, Mr. Charles Dietrich and Mr. Blend.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Grossinger, Jr., and the latter's brother, Lew Goldwasser, left New York last Sunday morning for an automobile tour down to Philadelphia, Washington, D. C., Annapolis and Atlantic City. They will be away for more than a week.

On Tuesday, May 7th, a telegram from two foreigners detained at Ellis Island, was received by the Deaf-Mutes' Union League, requesting to call. The next day Messrs. Samuel Frankenheim and Emanuel Souweine, President and Vice-President of the League, called, but they did not learn anything about the two individuals detained there, after waiting till closing time. They were asked to leave their name and address. A whole day wasted and nothing gained concerning who these two persons were and what they wanted of the League, etc.

Dwight Elmendorf is dead. He died on Monday, May 6th, in Roosevelt Hospital, after a lingering illness. He was seventy years old. From 1885 to 1897, he was a valued teacher of the New York Institution for the Improved Instruction, at Lexington Avenue and 67th Street. Among the pupils who came under his charge at the Lexington Avenue School, several today are prominent in this city. He was an honorary member of the Deaf-Mutes' Union League.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Leiber gave a party at their home in the Bronx on Sunday, May 5th, in honor of their son, Stanley's birthday. The following deaf friends graced the occasion with their presence: Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lieb, Misses Fannie Koeh, Ida Leher, Katie Shapiro, Messrs. Harry Gutschneider, Lester Cohen, Meyer Miller and several others. They had a very enjoyable time playing games, dancing and telling funny stories. Dainty refreshments were served.

Miss Lebovitz and Milton Steinberg were married some time ago, very quietly, unknown to their numerous friends, but Miss E. Stark, one of her most intimate friend, thought it right and proper to celebrate the event—even if at a late date, and she arranged for a party in their honor, which was pulled off on the 4th. About forty-five were present, and the newly-weds did not only feel surprised, but very much pleased at being so honored.

Joseph Worzel is the manager of the Deaf-Mutes' Union League baseball nine, and is desirous to engage with any other deaf-mute club during the coming summer, at picnics preferable. He can be addressed at the Deaf-Mutes' Union League rooms, 143 West 125th Street.

Miss Molly Smookler and her hearing sister are the proud possessors of Swiss wrist watches, presented to them by their uncle, who recently came to the United States, after touring the Old World. He was born in Poland, and had not seen his brother for thirty-six years.

Mr. John W. Call, of Brooklyn, N. Y., is ere this in print a grass-widow. Reason, his charming wife will be visiting her mother in Providence, R. I.

Arthur L. Taber can dance some, but he does not boast concerning same as witnessed at the Deaf-Mutes' Union League Spring Festival Dance. At the beginning of the waltz contest, he predicted that he would be the first to be "fired" or eliminated, and he was.

Thomas S. Marr, the well known deaf architect of Nashville, Tenn., was in New York last week, but did not have time to call on his friends, as his two sisters were with him. They are to go by Panama Canal to California, which will be reached May 27th. They will call at the School for the Deaf at Berkeley, while in California. Mr. Marr was architect of the new million-dollar hotel, which is nearing completion at Nashville.

Here's a good time for all, the old as well as the young players, and the price is only fifty cents. It is the forthcoming card party for the benefit of St. Mathew's Lutheran Church, under the direction of our chairlady, Mrs. Louis Brook, You may be the winner of a ticket to the Albee Theatre. Just remember prizes for every table. It's May 29th.

Mr. J. Daley, of Angola, N. Y., was hit by a taxicab on April 7th, and is in the hospital with a broken knee cap and a fractured thumb. He is getting on very nicely.

BORN—To Mrs. Dorothea Thomas Stewart, at St. Cloud, N. J., a son, weighing nine and one-half pounds. The baby first saw the sunlight on the 11th of March. Mrs. Stewart is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lincoln Thomas, and will be named Edward Arthur Stewart.

Ben DeCastro, of Panama, has postponed his contemplated visit to New York this month. He expects to sail for this city on September 10th.

The Brooklyn Guild of Deaf-Mutes will hold its Gallandet Anniversary Celebration, Saturday evening, June 8th, 1929, at 8 P.M., at the Messiah, 80 Greene Avenue, Brooklyn.

Samuel Goldstone is reported very sick at this writing, however we hope that will recover soon.

Mr. Simon Kahn, who was operated for rupture last month is back in our midst, after spending a week in Fishkill, N. Y., where he was recommended to go to recuperate.

FANWOOD

Mr. Esmond Gardner, son of Principal and Mrs. Gardner, was last week admitted a member of the New York State Bar. He is a graduate of Princeton University with a Bachelor's degree, and acquired a Master's degree in Business Administration before taking up the study of law, in which he received the degree of Juris Doctor last June. During the past five years he has also been connected with the Chase National Bank, where he now holds a position of responsibility in the Trust Department, and his legal acquisitions will stand him in good stead.

On the morning of Tuesday, May 7th, the band and battalion drilled from 8:30 to 10:30. During that time a Fox Movietone News recorded the drill with sound attachments. Also the band's playing was taken, and the films will soon be shown at the leading Fox theatres.

Mr. Martin Glynn, who graduated some thirty-five years ago, was a visitor at the printing office with his wife on Monday. He has had a steady position all these years. It pays to learn all you can while at school.

On Friday afternoon, May 10th, at 1:30 o'clock, the yearly inter-class Track and Field Meet was held on the Boys' Parade Ground. After the parade, the events were held. A full list of the winners will be given next week.

Last Saturday afternoon, May 11th, our baseball team played against the Green Sox baseball team. It was a very strong semi-professional team.

Louis Balkoski, fifteen years old, and the youngest member of the team, pitched in the first inning. He struck out one of the heaviest batters of the Green Sox. He was replaced by Leo Port, who fanned out sixteen consecutive players. However, the Fanwoods lost by the score of 16 to 4.

On Thursday evening, May 9th, the Fifth Grade Mixed pupils, taught by Miss Teegarden, gave an interesting program before the members of the F. L. A. The stories were short, clear and interesting. The debate was won by the affirmative side, 4 to 3. The judges were Ernest Marshall, Felix Kowalewski and Mollie Adelman.

The playlet was hilariously funny. Two knights jostled for their lady fair, with results that made everybody about die from laughing. The program is given below:

1. "Story About Two Dogs"—Joe Nuch.
 2. "Montdidier and Maccaire"—Peggy Roston.
 3. "The Six Servants"—Walter Shafran.
 4. "The Golden Glove"—Irene Gourdeau.
 5. "The Canterbury Ghost"—Michael Cairano.
 6. DEBATE—Resolved, That living near the ocean is better than living inland. Affirmative—Louis Pacifico. Negative—Miriam Mazur.
 7. "Jack of All Trades"—Ethel Koplowitz.
 8. "The Arabian Horse"—Louis Balkoski.
 9. "Under the Lilacs"—Eleanor Johnson.
 10. "The Ghoul of Golders Green"—Louis Fucci.
 11. "Romeo and Juliet"—Miriam Mazur.
 12. "The Treasures of Rhampsinotes"—Louis Pacifico.
- Comedy—"Two Common Knights"—by the whole class.

After an absence of several months in Mexico, Gaudeloupe, and other places on a special mission for the Spanish Museum, Mrs. Frank Lux is again at her New York home and Frank is greatly rejoiced. She was in Havana four days and inspected the school for the deaf located in that beautiful city.

William Lincoln Eastman.

William Lincoln Eastman, lifelong resident of Attica, N. Y., passed away at his home there, on April 7th, in the seventieth year of his age. He had been in poor health for a number of years, but was able to be up and about. Two days before his death he was helping his son on the farm when stricken with paralysis.

Mr. Eastman became deaf at twelve years of age, but continued to attend public school until he was seventeen. He then entered the Rochester School for the Deaf, where he remained for five years. After leaving school, he entered the apple packing business with his father, and became an expert apple packer. His services were always in demand, both at home and in neighboring states. He was able to speak fluently and was a remarkable lip-reader. This enabled him to converse freely with the hearing men with whom he worked, being able to understand even the broken English used by some of them.

In 1883, Mr. Eastman married Miss Eliza Avery, of Waterloo, N. Y., a schoolmate at the Rochester Institution. He purchased land near Attica, and became a successful and prosperous farmer.

Three children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Eastman. Their oldest girl, Hattie, met a tragic death when about six years old. She was playing about in the barnyard at her home when a young calf seized the strings of her sunbonnet in its mouth and in rough and tumble play choked her to death. Her body was shortly after discovered by her grief-stricken father, who had been working not far away.

Mrs. Eastman died in 1915. Later Mr. Eastman married Miss Pearl Seekins, who survives him, together with a son and daughter by his first marriage. The daughter, Mrs. Grace Bronson, is prominent in the affairs of the Eastern Star and other activities in Attica. The son, William, continues to run the farm left by his father. This farm is situated but a short distance from the new State prison now being built.

Mr. Eastman was an omnivorous reader and a very well-informed man, having also a fund of humor, which made him an agreeable and entertaining companion. He was very loyal and devoted to his Alma Mater, rarely failing to be present at the yearly meetings of the Rochester Alumni Association.

The Capital City

Mrs. Jean Edington invited the bomb explosion by inviting the Washington deaf to meet the newly-weds, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Isaacson (Miss Ruth Leitch) at the Evangeline Hotel on Saturday evening, May 4th. Those who responded to the invitation were Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Edington, Rev. and Mrs. Tracy, Mrs. P. R. Vernier, Mrs. Colby, Mrs. Wurdman, Mr. and Mrs. Galloway, Mrs. Boswell, Misses Ward and Nanney, and Messrs. Robert Werdig and Albert Rose. The newly-weds received warm congratulations and many useful and beautiful gifts. Several exciting games were indulged-in. Punch and wafers were served.

On the evening of May 7th, Mrs. P. R. Vernier entertained eight ladies to a bridal shower and card party in honor of Mrs. Isaacson.

The dining room was beautifully decorated with pink roses and ferns, and the color scheme perfectly carried out in the favors and refreshments.

Before the card play began, little Bobbie Vernier drew a cart loaded with gifts for the blushing bride. The ladies were Mrs. Isaacson, Mrs. Ferguson, Mrs. Galloway, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Souder, Mrs. Wurdman, Mrs. Colby, Miss Ward. For the high scores the prizes were awarded to Mesdames Galloway and Ferguson. They left at twelve o'clock, wishing the bride much happiness.

A Strawberry Social, given by the Ladies' Guild of St. Barnabas' Mission, was held at the Parish House of St. Mark's Church on the evening of May 8th. A large attendance was present, and all enjoyed the evening immensely. One of the events of the evening was the presentation of a linen table cloth, a gift for the bride, Mrs. Isaacson, from the Ladies' Guild of St. Barnabas' Mission. Mrs. Isaacson is the admirable friend of every deaf person in Washington.

Mrs. Mary Marshall, wife of W. E. Marshall, who has been ill at the Sibley Hospital for three weeks, is resting well at the home of Mrs. Brookmire.

Business meeting of Baptist Mission was held at the residence of Rev. and Mrs. A. D. Bryant on Monday evening, May 6th. The most important business discussed was concerning the Sunday School of the Kendall School pupils at the Baptist Church. Refreshments were served.

Arrangements are being completed for the May Party of the National Literary Society, of which Mr. S. B. Alley is chairman. It will be held at the Northeast Masonic Temple as usual, Wednesday evening, May 15th. Come every one of you, rain or sunshine, and have a good time.

Mr. Thomas Wood and family have bought a new home in Washington. They will take possession May 15th. Congratulations.

Mrs. Thomas Wood has passed her test on auto driving and has received the license. Felicitations.

Richmond frats will have a strawberry festival on Saturday evening, May 25th. Many Washington frats and wives are going to Richmond, Va., to help the social over the top.

The Washington Division, No. 46, and the Baltimore Division, No. 47, have a joint outing at Baltimore, Md., on the Fourth of July. Our genial friend, Mr. Robert Smoak, is chairman. Details will appear in the next issue of the JOURNAL.

Mrs. Ward, of New York City, mother of Miss Emma Ward, came to Washington, Sunday morning, May 5th, by excursion and returned home that evening. It is with hopes she will make us another visit before long.

Mrs. Moylan, of Baltimore, Md., who has been in Washington for several weeks, returned home last week.

The Chain Welder, of Washington, published by the Chain of People's Drug Stores, complimented Mr. Baxter W. Seaton with his likeness recently. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Seaton of Romney, W. Va.

The H. S. Edington family went to Maryland Sunday, May 5th, to spend the afternoon with Wallace.

Mrs. F. A. Adams' brother-in-law, John T. Adams and wife, of Iowa, was in Washington on business. They were the guests of the Adams on 1213 Decatur Street.

Mrs. C. C. Colby.

Gallaudet College

The events of this week were featured by the Fashion Show, held Friday afternoon, May 10th. The affair was marked by a large number of dresses and ensembles in the prevailing styles, undoubtedly more and finer creations than in any previous years. Miss Thompson's class in dressmaking has been making great progress and every year this fashion show becomes bigger and better. The exhibition was divided into five scenes: School Days, Winter, Spring, Summer and Evening, with changes of scenery to depict the four seasons of the year.

In the first scene, brown leaves and autumn colors formed the background for a display of school dresses. This was preceded by a wistful little "Dance of School Days" by Mary Ross, '32, and Kathryn Buster, '30. The Winter scene, opened by Lois Butler, S.S., dressed as Jack Frost, who danced amid a shower of cotton snow, illustrated several winter dresses.

The Spring scene showed a vine-covered trellis, with heaps of brilliant spring flowers and ferns. This scene was dedicated by an enchanting "Dance of the Rose," given by Mary Ross, dressed as an opening rose-bud, which won unqualified applause. Spring street and afternoon dresses were shown, and when the curtain fell, Velma Brassell, '30, signed Kipling's "Recessional." Summer dresses and ensembles followed, with a dance pantomiming the different sports by Alice Campbell, '30, and Kathryn Buster, '30.

The Evening scene was preluded by another attractive dance by Mary Ross and Ida Hanson, '29, in ball-room costumes. Being a mere man, the styles and changes illustrated in the course of the afternoon were undecipherable, so Miss Kittleson, '29, has written the following interpretation for the benefit of the feminine readers of this column:—"The dresses displayed ranged from simple school frocks to elaborate evening gowns. The ensemble theme was carried out in both cotton and silk, figured and plain fabrics, and proved to be very popular.

"A new feature in the sport dress was shown in the alphabet dress, originally designed at Gallaudet and made by the girls of the Sophomore Class. These dresses had the girl's initials plainly on the front, in contrasting shades or colors or in the form of pin tucking—the lines of the dress being carried out in harmony with the lines of the letter.

"Bright colored chiffons, with fitted hip lines, gracefully flared or shirred skirts, with the popular uneven hemline, low back and elaborate back treatment, were featured for evening wear. There were also two youthful and original taffetas and a pretty lace to add to the array of style and colors.

"As Paris sets the styles, the girls at Gallaudet adopt them to their particular requisites."

GALLAUDET TRACKMEN SMOTHER U. OF MD. FRESHMEN

Saturday afternoon, our track team added another laurel to its head, by fairly wiping out the U. of Md. Freshmen on the Kendall Green field. The total score for Gallaudet was 73 2-3 points to the University men's 34 1-3. The Gallaudet men won first and second places in every one of the first seven events, but lost first place in the following five, although keeping second and sometimes third places. The century was a brilliant success, for Gallagher finished several feet ahead of Ringle, who ran second in that event.

Dobson had no competition in the 880 and did it in 2:06 4-5 without exerting himself. Gallagher's throw of 144 feet took the javelin, in which Dyer took second place. Gallagher and Ringle were tied in the 220 yard dash, at 24 seconds. Riding's jump of 18.95 feet won the broad jump, with Gallagher a few inches behind. After two poor throws, Byouk caught his form in the discus and threw 113.3 feet, with Ringle just behind him at 112.3 feet. Byouk, on account of a bad knee, entered only in the furlough and two field events.

In the 440, Ringle took first, with Byouk right on his heels. Then the breaks began to go the Maryland way. They took first in the one mile, with Rosenkjar second; first in the shot put, with Byouk and Ringle following; first in the pole vault, with Ridines and Stebbins second and third; first in the low hurdles, with Altizer second; and easily took the high jump, although Stebbins startled all by doing 5 ft. 6 in. in that event, thereby annexing second place.

The University of Maryland Freshmen are considered almost as good as the varsity team, so that we consider our victory over them quite a success. The next meet will be a quadrangular meet in Baltimore, between John Hopkins, G. W. U., Catholic U. and Gallaudet, on Wednesday next, in which we expect to make some showing. The Catholic University dual meet on May 25th will end the season. Below is a summary of the University of Maryland Freshmen meet:—

100-Yard Dash—Won by Gallagher (G. C.); second, Ringle (G. C.); third, Ward (U. Md.). Time, 10 1-5.

880-Yard Run—Won by Dobson (G. C.); second, Wurdemann (G. C.); third, Brown (U. Md.). Time, 2:06 4-5.

Javelin Throw—Won by Gallagher (G. C.); second, Dyer (G. C.); third, Touts (U. Md.). Distance, 144.3 ft.

220-Yard Dash—Won by Gallagher and Ringle (G. C.); third, Price (U. Md.). Time, 24s.

Broad Jump—Won by Ridings (G. C.); second, Gallagher (G. C.); third, Carter (U. Md.). Distance, 18.95 ft.

Discus Throw—Won by Byouk (G. C.); second, Ringle (G. C.); third, Krajovic (U. Md.). Distance, 113.3 ft.

440-Yard Run—Won by Ringle (G. C.); second, Byouk (G. C.); third, Reichel (U. Md.). Time, 55s.

1-Mile Run—Won by Shure (U. Md.); second, Rosenkjar (G. C.); third, Richardson (U. Md.). Time, 4 min. 56 2-5s.

Shot Put—Won by Krajovic (U. Md.); second, Ringle (G. C.); third, Byouk (G. C.). Distance, 37 1-2 ft.

Pole Vault—Won by Touts (U. Md.); second, Ridings (G. C.); third, Stebbins (G. C.). Height, 10 ft. 6 in.

220-Yard Low Hurdles—Won by Carter (U. Md.); second, Altizer (G. C.); third, Ruhl (U. Md.). Time, 29 4-5s.

High Jump—Won by Krajovic (U. Md.); second, Stebbins (G. C.); third, Ridings and Ringle (G. C.), and Woods (U. Md.). Height, 5 ft. 7 in.

During the past week we have had most distinguished visitors in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Barnes, formerly in charge of two schools for the deaf in and near London and now retired, although continuing to exert great influence in British education of the deaf. They have about completed a tour of the world, visiting the schools for the deaf in the British empire, and will sail for England in a few days.

During their visit on Kendall Green, they have been shown the utmost cordiality, and we are certain they will take back with them a pleasant reminder of their stay here. The Senior girls in domestic science were their hosts at a supper the first day, at which an excellent and well-planned dinner was served.

Mr. Barnes and his wife had the good fortune to witness the fashion show and the track meet Friday and Saturday, and on Sunday Mr. Barnes took the platform and delivered an absorbing talk on many topics of interest. He made a brief comparison of the British deaf and those of this country, stating that there were about 40,000 deaf in the British Isles.

The compulsory education laws in England are very strict and apply to both the deaf and the hearing. As a result, nearly every deaf child from 7 to 16 is in school. They do a great deal of vocational training, and every child over 13 is required to put in much of his time in vocational work. The result of this is that 87 percent of the deaf (about the same as in this country) are self-supporting.

In comparison with that, he stated that the blind of the Isles have a percentage of only 27, who are dependent solely upon themselves. The children in the schools for the deaf are taught by the oral method whenever possible, and when this method fails they are sent to special schools for the backward, and feeble-minded, or the deaf-and-blind, where they are given special instruction by different methods which will best prepare them for a life of usefulness.

Mr. Barnes' own work is with these defectives, and with a school where the hard-of-hearing children are grouped for the sake of receiving special instruction, aiming at retaining and improving their diminished hearing. He mentioned that the Dutch of South Africa had started an excellent school there, attended by both English and Dutch deaf children.

In Australia, he remarked that the deaf were a very progressive group, for they have not only raised two funds of $150,000 each at Sidney and Melbourne for the establishment of churches and social and recreation centers, but have succeeded in making themselves respected members of the community.

If the deaf of that young and growing country can raise $150,000 in a short time, those of this nation, the greatest and most prosperous of the world, should be able to raise $50,000 for the E. M. G. fund in a short while. Another phase of the English deaf that Mr. Barnes dwelt upon, related to the National Institute of the Deaf, of which he is a member and active officer.

He explained that the blind of the British Isles had succeeded in securing great privileges, low rates on reading matter, pensions, employment bureaus, etc., from the government, through the influence exerted upon legislation by the National Institute for the Blind and, though the deaf were not at all desirous of becoming public dependents to the extent that the blind were, they at least felt that they should be given more consideration by the ruling powers, and the Institute for the Deaf was the outcome of this desire.

This institute has a powerful voice in legislation relating to the deaf and has succeeded in securing a measure of relief, but much greater work is expected in the future, as the organization completes its compilation of statistics and figures about the deaf. The institute conducts a publicity bureau, which distributes much valuable information among the public, and through the medium of this organ public interest is slowly being awakened to the condition of the deaf.

It has been repeatedly proven that extensive publicity is the best medium of advertising the deaf, and this lecture of Mr. Barnes should serve as an idea that the Alumni Association could well adopt with undoubted success. Mr. Barnes has also visited the Canada deaf and was high in his praise of their self-dependence.

THE POPULATION IN QUEENS BOROUGH IS OVER

according to estimate by Queensboro Chamber of Commerce, January, 1929. Is a million reasons why you should buy IMPROVED lots in the fastest growing borough of Greater New York, where improvements are already installed, where transportation already exists—and above all, where many people are NOW living. Plans for five forty-family apartment houses have been filed and which adjoin the property. A word to the wise is sufficient.

ANDREW CARNEGIE has said—
Ninety per cent. of all millionaires become so through owning real estate. More money has been made in real estate than in all industrial investments combined. The wise young man or wage earner of today should invest his money in real estate.

Lots as low as $240 cash on easy payments. All titles insured free.
